

Ageing and Disability Commission data

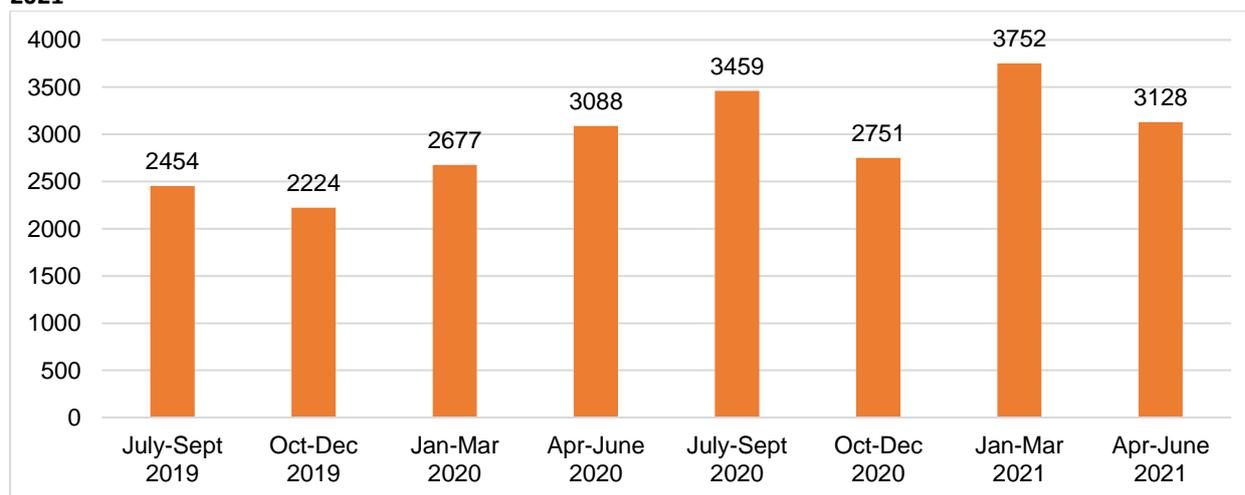

2020 – 2021

1. Number of calls, enquiries and reports

1.1 Number of calls to the Ageing and Disability Abuse Helpline

In 2020/21, the Ageing and Disability Abuse Helpline received 13,090 calls. The number of calls to the Helpline in 2020/21 was 25% higher than the number of calls received in 2019/20 (10,443).

As indicated in Figure 2, the number of calls to the Helpline in 2020-21 was at its highest in July 2020. This was the tailend of a spike in calls in May, June and July 2020 following the easing of COVID-19 restrictions after the first lockdown in NSW. In large part, this was associated with the main reporters to the ADC (family members and service providers) regaining contact with the adult with disability or older person and identifying concerns about their situation.

It was a similar picture in January and February 2021, when the number of calls increased following the Christmas and New Year period. Among other things, the increase in calls was associated with families identifying concerns while seeing (or seeking to see) the older person or adult with disability during the holidays and subsequently contacting the Helpline; and increased family conflict and stress.

1.2 Number of reports and enquiries

In 2020-21, the ADC received 5,000 matters, comprising:

- 3,566 reports under section 13 of the Ageing and Disability Commissioner Act 2019
- 1,434 enquiries – involving 782 general enquiries, and 652 abuse-related enquiries.

The number of matters received in 2020-21 was 27.6% higher than 2019-20 (3,917).

Compared to 2019-20, the number of reports increased by 55.3%, and the number of enquiries decreased by 11.5%. The increase in reports and reduction in enquiries reflects:

- increased demand
- a better understanding by reporters of the role of the ADC
- better classification of cases by the ADC (more accurate data capture).

2. Person status and demographics

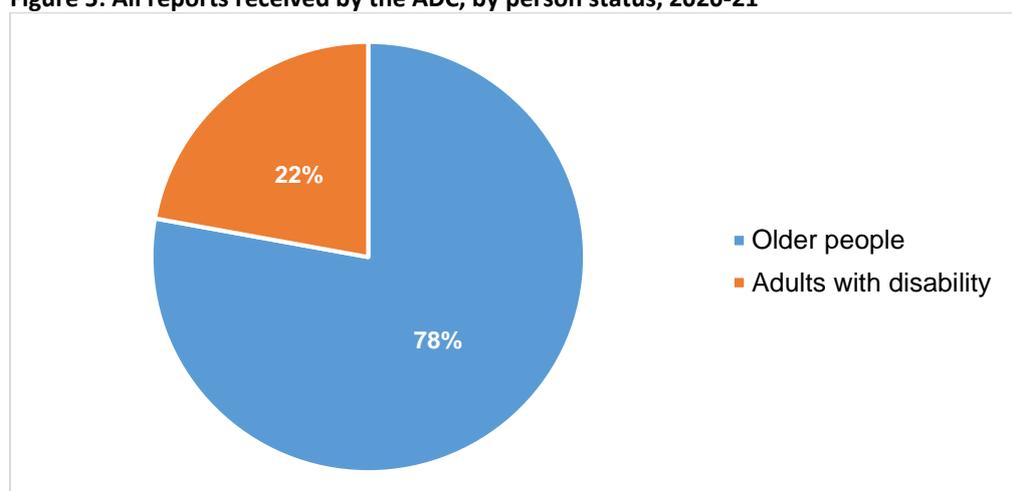

2.1 Person status

Of the 3,566 reports received by the ADC in 2020-21:

- 2,777 reports (77.9%) related to older people¹, including 1,030 reports about older people with disability
- 789 reports (22.1%) related to adults with disability² who were not older people.

This is highly consistent with the previous year, where 77.4% of reports were about older people (1,776), and 22.6% of reports were about adults with disability (520).

¹ Adults aged 65 years and older, and Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander adults aged 50 years and older.

² Adults aged 18 years and older with a disability as defined in the Disability Inclusion Act 2014.

2.2 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander status

In 2.9% of reports to the ADC in 2020-21, the adult with disability or older person was identified as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander. This proportion was largely unchanged from the previous year (2.6%).

The proportion of adults with disability who were identified as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander (3.8%) was higher than the proportion of older people (2.6%).

2.3 Culturally and linguistically diverse background status

In 8.1% of reports to the ADC in 2020-21, the adult with disability or older person was identified as having a culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) background. This proportion was unchanged from 2019-20.

Table 2: CALD background status of person the subject of a report to the ADC, 2020-21

2.5 Age

The largest proportion of the 2,777 reports about older people in 2020-21 related to people aged 80-84 years (16.7%). The largest proportion of the 789 reports about adults with disability related to people aged 18-24 years (17%). These results are consistent with 2019-20.

2.6 Location of person

Of the 2,769 reports to the ADC in 2020-21 in which the location of the person was known, regional NSW accounted for just over half of the reports (1,492; 54%). Of the regional areas, Hunter, Illawarra Shoalhaven, and Central Coast featured most often. This is consistent with the previous year.

Figure 9: Location of person the subject of a report to the ADC by NSW region, 2020-21

At a Local Government Area (LGA) level, the adults who were the subjects of a report to the ADC in 2020-21 most commonly lived in the Central Coast, Canterbury-Bankstown and Blacktown LGAs.

3. Reporters

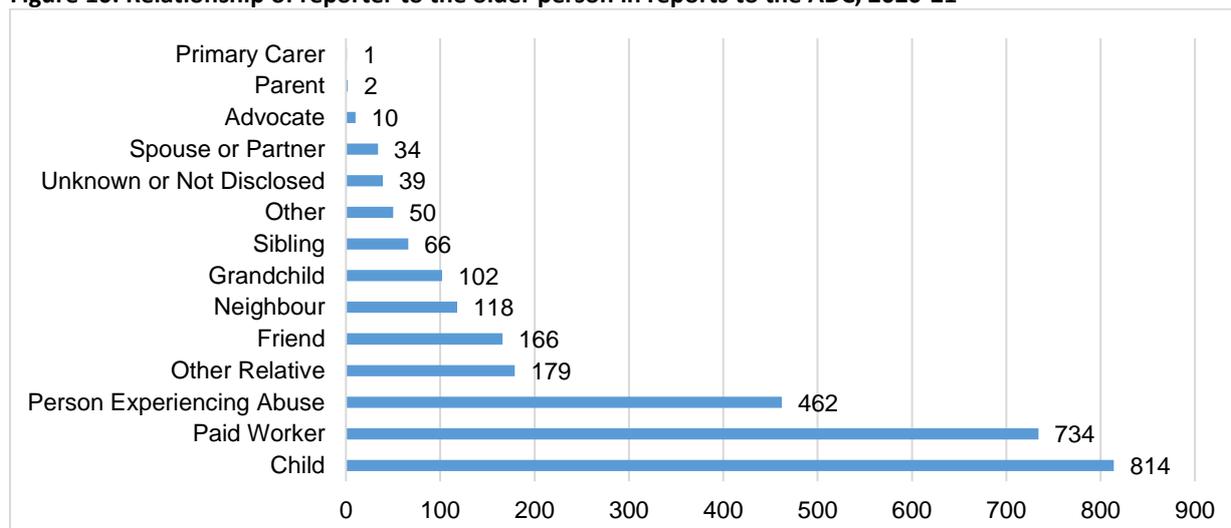

3.1 Relationship of reporter to the adult

Older people

Adult children were the main source of reports to the ADC about older people in 2020-21, accounting for 29.3% of the 2,777 reports. All up, family members were the reporters in 41.9% of reports about older people. Paid workers made over a quarter (26.4%) of the reports about older people, and the older person ('person experiencing abuse') was the reporter to the ADC in 16.6% of cases.

In comparison to the previous year, in 2020-21 the ADC received a slightly higher proportion of reports by paid staff (previously 23.5%) and older people themselves (previously 14.1%).

Figure 10: Relationship of reporter to the older person in reports to the ADC, 2020-21

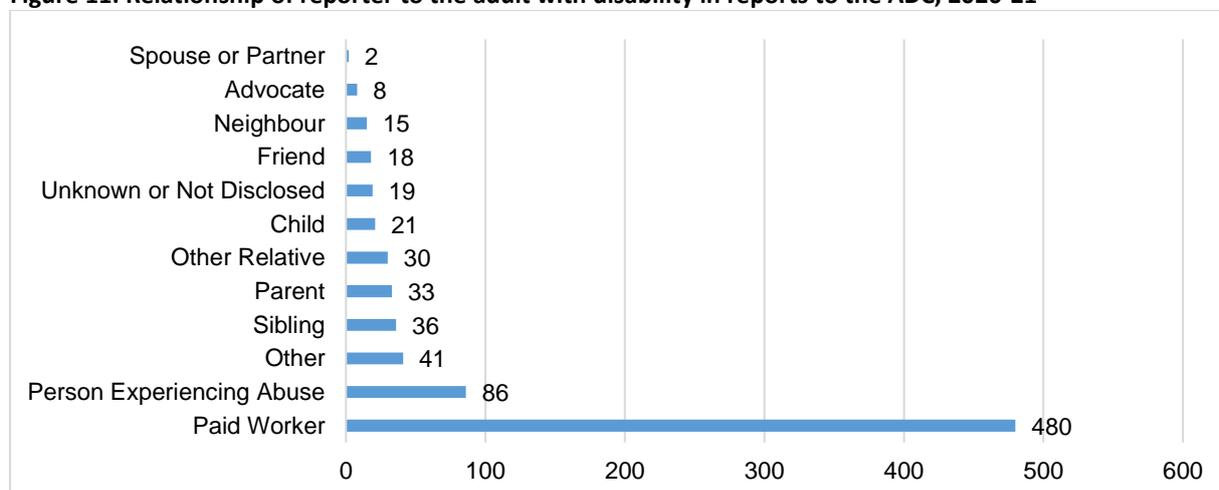

Adults with disability

Paid workers were the main source of reports to the ADC about adults with disability in 2020-21, accounting for over half (60.8%) of the 789 reports about adults with disability in that period. Family members were the reporters in 15.2% of reports about adults with disability, and the adult with disability ('person experiencing abuse') was the reporter in 10.9% of cases.

In comparison to the previous year, a slightly higher proportion of reports about adults with disability in 2020-21 were made by paid staff (previously 56.2%).

4. Subjects of allegation

4.1 Relationship of the subject of allegation to the adult

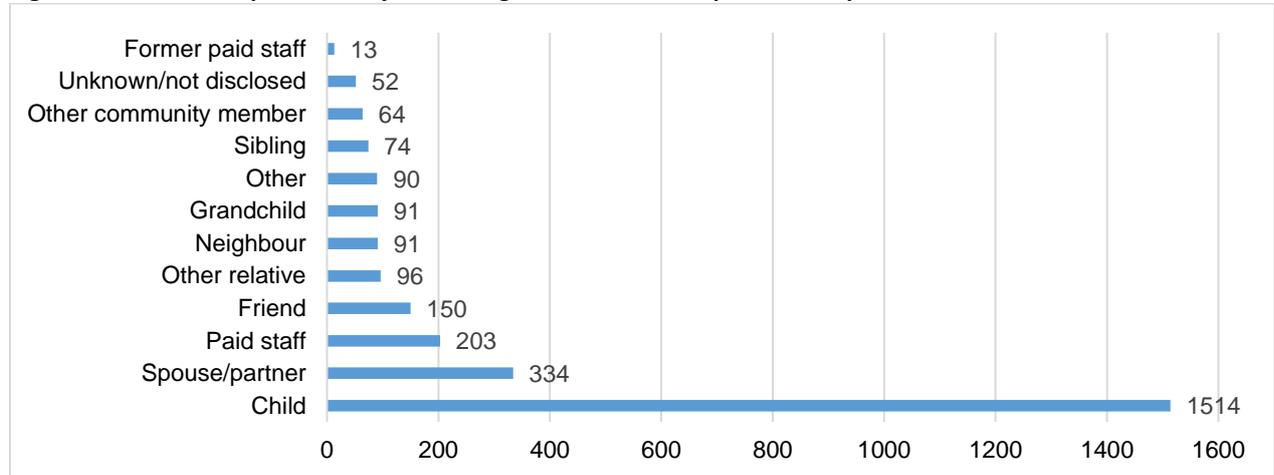

Older people

The subjects of allegation in over half (54.5%) of the 2,777 reports to the ADC about older people in 2020-21 were the person's adult children. All up, relatives were the subjects of allegation in almost two-thirds (64%) of the reports about older people. Allegations against a spouse or partner (or ex-spouse/ partner) featured in 12% of the reports about older people.

In comparison to the previous year, the proportion of reports in 2020-21 involving allegations against paid staff (7.8%) increased by 2%.

Figure 12: Relationship of the subject of allegation to the older person in reports to the ADC, 2020-21

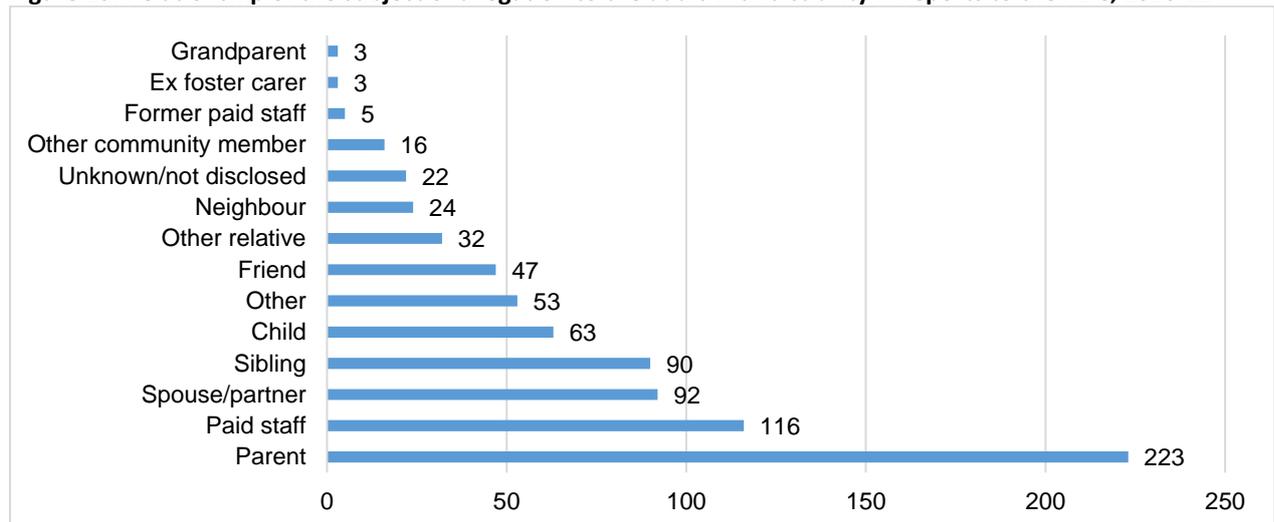

Adults with disability

In 28.3% of the 789 reports to the ADC about adults with disability in 2020-21, the allegations pertained to the adult's parent(s). All up, relatives were the subjects of allegation in over half (52.1%) of the reports about adults with disability. In 11.7% of matters, the adult's spouse or partner (or ex-spouse/partner) was the subject of the allegations.

In comparison with the previous year, the proportion of reports in 2020-21 involving allegations against paid staff (15.3%) increased by 6%.

5. Type of alleged abuse

Older people

The most commonly reported types of alleged abuse in relation to older people in 2020-21 were psychological abuse and financial abuse. The results for 2020-21 were highly consistent with 2019-20.

Table 5: Type of alleged abuse of the older person in reports to the ADC, 2020-21³

Type of alleged abuse	Number of allegations	% of all allegations in reports about older people
Psychological abuse (Mainly verbal abuse; preventing or restricting access to family/others; and preventing or restricting access to supports/services)	1,619	39.0
Financial abuse (Mainly financial exploitation; misuse of Power of Attorney/ Enduring POA; and theft)	1,216	29.3
Neglect (Mainly failure to meet the person's support needs; medical neglect; and inadequate clothing or food)	826	19.9

⁴ The data captures all matters in which that type of abuse has been reported; in the majority of matters, more than one type of abuse is reported.

6. Actions/ outcomes

6.1 Primary action by ADC (closed reports)

The ADC closed 3,502 reports in 2020-21. Two-thirds of the reports (2,335) were handled at an early point by the Ageing and Disability Abuse Helpline providing assistance and support to the caller, referring matters to other appropriate parties, and providing early case coordination to the adult.

In 30% of the reports closed in 2020-21 (1,060), the primary action taken by the ADC involved further work on the report, including making inquiries; working with the adult and other parties to address risks and improve outcomes; referring the matter to NSW Police; and/or investigating.
